My Dear Member of SNDTWU Family,

Seasons Greetings!

You must have passed out from this esteemed institution may be long ago or it may be this year!

Shreemati Nathibai Damodar Thackersey Women's University (SNDTWU) as you may be aware is FIRST Women's University in India and South East Asia. We have 39 University Departments, 11 conducted/affiliated Institutions, two Centres, 183 affiliated colleges and an autonomous college. There are six institutions recognized by SNDT for Ph. D. Research. SNDT is a home to 1100 teaching and non-teaching staff members and close to 50,000 students spread across seven states and a union territory.

SNDTWU is unique in more than one ways. It is probably the ONLY University in India which can affiliate institution in any part of India. It has KG (Nursery school as experimental Laboratory for Human Development students and Arushi school for children with special needs) to PhD programmes in as diverse subjects as drawing and painting and analytical chemistry, management and jewellery design and manufacture, IT, Communication and media for children, vocational programmes in optometry, clinical nutrition, pharmacy, and so on. SNDTWU not only supports students in their academics but also in their overall personality and life skills. SNDTWU is not only an educational institution but a family in more than one ways!
