Guidelines for Question Bank Creation – MKCL OES

Designing meaningful objective assessments for technology enabled evaluation.

Meaningful objective assessments can be designed using MKCL's Online Evaluation System (OES).

Questions can be designed to assess learning objectives at different levels. With specific reference to Bloom's Taxonomy (Original or Revised), the learning objectives can be assessed at six levels viz: Knowledge/ Remember, Comprehension/ Understand, Application, Analysis, Synthesis and Evaluation/ Creation. These can be grouped and categorized into difficulty levels such as low, medium and high. Further, various question types along with different media types such as text, audio, video, image can be used.

While designing questions using MKCL's OES, such attributes of a question mentioned above are stored in the question repository for each and every question, i.e. assessment item. Based on these attributes, the system generates personalized data about attainment of specific learning objective for every student appearing for the exam.

Detailed description of what type of questions can be designed for technology enabled evaluation is furnished herewith.

Attributes of a question:

1. Ability
2. Bloom's Taxonomy level
3. Learning Objective
4. Subject – Unit – Chapter
5. Difficulty level
6. Type of a question

Bloom's Taxonomy Levels and objectives for assessment:

1. Knowledge
 - a. Knowledge of specifics: Knowledge of terminology, Fact
 - b. Knowledge of ways and means of dealing with specifics: Knowledge of conventions, trends and sequences, classifications and categories, criteria, methodology
 - c. Knowledge of universals and abstractions in a field: Knowledge of principles and generalizations, theories and structures
2. Comprehension
 - a. Translation
 - b. Interpretation
 - c. Extrapolation
3. Application
4. Analysis
 - a. Analysis of elements
 - b. Analysis of principles
 - c. Analysis of organizational elements
5. Synthesis

Guidelines for Question Bank Creation – MKCL OES

- a. Production of a unique communication
 - b. Production of a plan, or proposed set of operations
 - c. Derivation of a set of abstract relations
- 6. Evaluation
- a. Evaluation in terms of internal evidence
 - b. Judgments in terms of external criteria

Question designing strategies for using these question types:

1. Definition of learning objective
2. Selection of question type based on available media and level of learning objective
3. Designing not-so obvious options
4. Designing incorrect options as conceptual distractors
5. Designing questions for more than one levels of learning objectives, i.e. few questions may cut across levels and fall in both the levels such as knowledge and comprehension

Following are the basic guidelines to create a question bank for Online examination conduction through MKCL's Online Evaluation System.

Qualitative Guidelines:

Following are the details present in the import template. The subject wise template can be downloaded from the question bank creator (item bank) login.

1. Difficulty Level
2. Author (it's optional)
3. No. of Options in the Questions
4. Question text (without any special character, image, formula, subscript or superscript as they are to be created in image form as per guidelines given below)
5. Option wise Text
6. Correct Option No.

Guidelines for Question Bank Creation – MKCL OES

1. Fill Difficulty Level of the question. The difficulty level should be in number 1,2,3 for low, Medium & High simultaneously.

4. The questions should follow principle of “Conceptual Distractor”. It means all four options must look correct unless the concept is absolutely clear.

Consider the following equation

$$\square \times 4 = \square \times 8 \div 2$$

Which value of \square makes the equation true?

- a) Only 1
- b) Only 10
- c) Either 1 or 10
- d) Any number

8. A proper hierarchy of the syllabus on whom questions are to be made is to be created first. Generally it goes like, Standard-Subject-Unit-Chapter-Topic. You may skip any node as per your syllabus, but try to segregate the questions based on lowest possible node (over here its topic).

Technical Guidelines:

The question sample attached is of the question type Multiple Choice Single Correct, wherein the questions can be in the form of Images or text. The samples as well as the templates provided will guide you in creating the question bank. Also some of the basic instructions are given below, please follow them while creating the question bank.

Some basic Instructions-

For textual type questions:

1. Type the questions in the excel file directly. Copy paste from other file is also possible, but utmost care should be taken to ensure the format of the text as numbers and date formatting does not change after copy paste.
2. Use separate excel (.xlsx) files for different topics.

Guidelines for Question Bank Creation – MKCL OES

3. Do not create multiple sheets in a single Excel file.

Avoid Multiple Sheets in 1 Excel File

4. Do not add special characters, images, symbols, formula, subscript or superscript in the Question text or Option text.

Avoid

Superscript: $x^2 + y^2 = z^2$ Subscript: $C_6H_{12}O_6$ Formula: $x^3 - 5$
 $(7x - 4)^3 - 5$

5. If you come across such type of questions/options then, please add those in Picture Type questions.
6. Questions where underlined or bold or italics text is present should be included in Picture Type questions only.

Avoid

Find the meaning of the underlined word(s).

When he was challenged, the salesman stood up for his product.

Find the meaning of the Highlighted word(s).

This book is about a man who deserted his family and went to live in the Himalayas.

7. As we provide multilingual support for following languages: English, Hindi, Marathi the questions should be provided only in Unicode font only. (If bilingual questions bank is to be created, please contact MKCL for further assistance)

For Image type questions:

1. Create the complete question bank in MS-Word only for the questions which have figures, diagrams, chemical equations, special symbols or characters, subscript or superscript as a part of the question or Option. Font size should be minimum 12 and maximum 14.

Guidelines for Question Bank Creation – MKCL OES

2. Create images of the word file by Print Screen option, crop them with the help of any image editor utility and save the files in .jpg format as per the samples attached. E.g. q1.jpg, q1o1.jpg, q1o2.jpg, q1o3.jpg, q1o4.jpg.

3. Please ensure the image resolutions should be not more than: horizontal – 700 pixels; vertical – 300 pixels

4. You can then write the name of the image in excel in the image column (the image names should be in small case and avoid any kind of special characters and spaces in the image names)

Multiple Choice Single Correct

The screenshot shows the MKCL OES interface for a user named 'devendrach'. The question is: "Question No. 1: which of the following is the last step in aerobic respiration in which water is formed and energy is released?". The options are: Glycolysis, Acetylation, Krebs cycle, and Electron transfer. The interface includes a timer showing 09:25 remaining, a progress bar for 2 questions, and buttons for 'Save & Next', 'Mark for Review', 'Skip', 'Reset', 'View QP', 'Profile', 'Instructions', and 'End Test'.

Multiple Choice Single Correct with image in question

The screenshot shows the MKCL OES interface for a user named 'msubdev16'. The question is: "Question No. 11: What does the given images show?". The image is a diagram of a DC generator. It shows a rectangular armature coil between the North (N) and South (S) poles of a field magnet. The coil is connected to a commutator on a shaft, which is in contact with carbon brushes. The circuit is completed through a load. Labels include: Field magnet, Armature coil, Rotation of coil clockwise, Motion up, Motion down, Commutator, Carbon brush, Shaft, and Load. The options are: DC Generator, AC Generator, Alternator, and None of the option. The interface includes a timer showing 58:24 remaining, a progress bar for 25 questions, and buttons for 'Save & Next', 'Profile', 'Instructions', and 'End Test'.
